7 THINGS I CAN'T LIVE WITHOUT

Sandra Espinet, luxury residential interior designer, and author of Barefoot Luxury, shares the 7 things she can't live without this autumn. Her sophisticated, yet uber casual approach to design, makes her unique brand of style one you should be following to stay "in-the-know" of what's hot. www.sandraespinet.com

1. Roberto Cavalli – as summer sheer dresses are being put away, fall silk dresses are coming out. And for the past few years, no one tops dramatic prints like Italian designer Roberto Cavalli. www.robertocavalli.com

2. Puiforcat Knives – when a silversmith and a Michelin chef team up, the world gets the best possible, modern cooking knives. Stainless steel blades that stay sharp and beautifully crafted rosewood handles with stainless steel detail make these beautiful and highly functional. If you cook, you need this. www.ateliercourbet.com

3. Achille Salvagni – Roman architect turned designer, Achille has created numerous lines of home products. His new stunning, hand-blown, Murano glass vases are my favorite, with their glowing, jewel-tone glass and gold enamel finials. www.maisongearard.com

4. Greubel Forsey – if you have not heard of the brand it's because you are not a watch enthusiast. Their custom and extremely small production watches are handmade in Switzerland and highly collectible and considered one of the most complicated timepieces. www.greubelforsey.com

5. Aman Hotels – I've been called an Aman Junkie and I am ready to add a new Aman to the list. The new luxury residential private beach community of Costa Palma in the Mexican Baja is topping the hotel charts with the addition of Amanvari. My idea of hospitality perfection. www.amanresorts.com

6. Butterfly Chairs – created by the Mexican-French team of Santo & Jean, the beautifully stylized chair is made out of solid aluminum and gold or silver leaf. It's a fun, feminine and modern classic that screams "I can fly". www.santojeanya.com

7. Fisker – one of the newest automotive makers in the U.S. has created the Karma electric car. A luxury vehicle that is well-designed, fun and has beautiful lines, yet it is also environmentally conscious and part of the future of American car technology. You are bound to look twice when you see one. www.karmaautomotive.com
