Luxury Has Arrived in Los Cabos!

By Pepe Pedine

Not very long ago, Los Cabos was a sleepy community and a destination for sport fishermen and surfers. But the secret is out and more and more private jets and fabulous yachts are filling the airstrips and marinas of the Baja. It has become the playground and weekend retreat for a sophisticated crowd of jetsetters. Everyone now knows about the perfect weather, legendary sunsets and the dramatic scenery.

As larger and grander luxury homes have filled the private gated neighborhoods of Paimilla, Querencia & El Dorado, interior design star Sandra Espinet has emerged. Her name has become synonymous with serious style power and her design firm Square One Interiors has become the most sought after luxury commodity in the area. Very few designers can boast the amazing client list and who's who that Sandra can count as her clients. She gracefully approaches each job as a unique vision and consciously strives to ensure it develops a personal feel. Upon entering one of her homes you are immediately drawn to the attention of detail and personal touches.

Simple rustic Mexican furniture was the norm in the past. Everything Guadalajara was acceptable. But these days fabulous homes that line the ocean call for natural drama and elegance which Sandra and her team of designers are famous for delivering. Each home is unique in feel and carefully assembled as a stage for the lifestyle of its homeowners and their family life.

Sandra brings luxury to super high-end homes through an ingenious blend of modern amenities and unique antiques that she gathered during her extensive world travels. Each home is personalized especially for its owners' tastes and desires, but each also bears the unmistakable mark of high-style, impeccable taste and worldly sophistication that is the Sandra Espinet brand.

With internationally acclaimed interior designer Sandra Espinet guiding the style in Los Cabos it is sure to continue being a favorite destination for luxury travel in the future.

Pack up your bathing suit and book that private jet...let your life take flight in the exotic escape of Los Cabos and Baja California.
