Retail stories

Since this month's issue is all about retailing success, we asked our designers to share a little of their own experience as shoppers: "The last time you shopped for home decor item(s) for your home, what did you buy? Where did you buy it? And what attracted you to that particular shop?" — Susan Dickenson

I love dishes and have several sets in various colors and styles that I mix and match. But my favorite is a simple blue ceramic set I found walking around in Provence, France. I also enjoy trying out new sheets and bedding before recommending them to clients. My new duvet and shams are being custom hand-embroidered in India by Flying Fig, and I can't wait to get them. Blackman Cruz and Fat Chance in Los Angeles are among my favorite stops for found objects. — SE
