SANDRA ESPINET

*An Accomplished Luxury
Interior Designer*

Stepping into a home designed by Sandra Espinet is an extraordinary design experience merging comfort and personalized style. Sandra's lively creativity and multicultural heritage gives indoor and outdoor living spaces both the individuality of far-reaching travels, in addition to the appreciation of classic luxury she shares with her clients. She finds creative ideas in the natural world when choosing her color palette and her materials alike. This can lead, for instance, to amalgamation of exotic ocean blues and sunset yellows with natural cottons, silk, and the highest quality fabrics.

An accomplished interior designer and allied member of the American Society of Interior Designers, Sandra received her Associate of Arts Degree in Interior Design from the New England School of Design in Boston. Furthermore, she holds a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Interior Design from the American College of Art in Atlanta and a Masters Degree in Production Design from the American Film Institute in Los Angeles.

Sandra draws inspiration from her extensive travels to South America, Europe, Northern Africa, and Asia, as well as her experiences living in numerous countries throughout the world. By immersing herself in the culture and traditions of each visited destination, she infuses her designs with unique and remarkable style. Her search around the globe brings together rare and distinctive pieces from the world's finest artisans that will transform any home into a distinct retreat. The flip flopped, shop-a-holic citizen of the world is continuously looking for new avenues to follow and for innovative combinations of design elements to share with the world.

Since 2000, Sandra has been living in the coastal town of San Jose Del Cabo, Mexico, where she owns and operates S.E. Design Services, an elite, full-service high end residential design studio catering to luxury residential projects.

Sandra's work has been celebrated in interior design books such as "Houses by the Sea" and numerous magazines around the world. She has appeared in many HGTV television design shows and has received numerous awards for her work. American Society of Interior Designers (ASID) awarded Sandra 1st place in excellence of design for homes over 3,000 square feet.

Sandra Espinet explained: "This particular kitchen is a traditional style with a Mexican twist. It is custom-designed for a client in Cabo, Mexico. We created a small breakfast bar area next to the kitchen built in banquette so there would be a casual eat in space in the kitchen. We hung hand painted Mexican Talavera dishes on the wall above the banquette. All of the carved doors are custom. The appliances are top of the line: Miele built in coffee maker, Sub Zero fridge and refrigerated drawers, Viking stove and microwave, Miele dishwasher, and Ceramic farm sink. We created a Mexican antique brick "boveda" ceiling to give it an old world feel and hung a traditional customized iron chandelier over the island."
